Present College Pep Queen Tonight At the Barkatze Dance

A College Pep Queen will be crowned tonight when the Barkatze pep organization starts the New Year in a frolicsome mood by sponsoring the first dance of 1937 in the College's West Library. The dance will be in session from 8:30 o'clock until 12 o'clock midnight.

Marian Maloy, Rosalyn Venrick, Elizabeth Wright, Mary Frances Morrell, Kathryn Carlton, Sue Brown, Doris Hiles, Virginia Sifers, Millie Elliott, Jo Nash and Bonnie McFall are nominees for pep queen. They were nominated by students in the College on Monday of this week.

One "Andina" Campbell was also nominated, but upon referring to the student handbook, the committee found that there is no such person enrolled in the College.

Voting on the queens has been in order since Tuesday morning, when tickets to the dance went on sale. So many votes were given to the purchaser's choice for queen, depending upon the day of purchase. Five votes were given if the ticket was bought on Tuesday, four if bought on Wednesday, three if bought on Thursday and two if bought on Friday. The nominee receiving the greatest number of votes will be coronated at intermission tonight.

Decorations for the dance will be carried out in the school colors of green and white.

Bill Maloy, president of the Barkatze, is acting as general chairman of the committees preparing for the dance, and he promises one of the best dances of the year. Other committees preparing for the frolic include: decorations, Edwardena Harrison, chairman, and Beulah Frerichs, Lowell Slonecker and Eddie Gickling; publicity and tickets, Frederick Schneider, chairman, Irene Bohnenblust, Kathleen Thomas and Paul Person; floor show, James Stephenson, chairman, Durwood Maxted and Elizabeth Wright; orchestra, Bill Maloy.

Music for the dance will be furnished by the College dance orchestra. Tickets may be bought all day today and at the door tonight for 50 cents per couple.

Merle Selecman Wins High Place In Bank Organization

Merle E. Selecman, a former student of the college, has been appointed deputy manager of the American Bankers Association and secretary of the Trust Division, according to F. N. Shepard, executive manager. He will assume his new duties Mar. 1.

Mr. Selecman has been associated with the Trust Division for about nine years, during which time his efforts have been largely devoted to the advertising service which he will continue to supervise. He received his A. B. degree from the college in 1926. He attended the University of Missouri and took his Masters degree at Northwestern University.

Mr. Selecman was formerly city editor of the Forum. Mr. Shepard the executive manager who made the announcement, is the brother of Grace M. Shepard, of the department of education in the college.

BERT COOPER
Nodaway County Member of State Legislature.

Bert Cooper In Jefferson City Making Laws

Mr. Bert Cooper, director of extension work for the college, is taking a leave of absence from his college duties to represent Northwest Missouri in the state legislature. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper left Maryville Saturday morning and spent the day and night in Kansas City at the home of Howard Leech a graduate of the college. They went the next day to Jefferson City where they will probably remain three months.

Mr. Cooper is well qualified to represent this agricultural section, having spent his early life on a farm. He is a graduate of the college with the class of 1924. After a few years in the public schools he was elected County Superintendent of Schools of Nodaway County. He has worked in the department of education and has been director of extension of the college for fifteen years. Mr. Cooper has done graduate work at Harvard.

While in Jefferson City they will reside at 808 Jackson Street.

Don't stall him off too long; he might not come around again.

An American Red Cross Junior Life Saving class will be started Tuesday afternoon January 12 at 5 o'clock. The classes will be conducted in the college pool twice a week under the instruction of Walter Wade.

This will be a mixed class open to all people that are twelve years of age or over. They must be able to use the four basic strokes, back, side, breast and crawl.

Any person wishing to take this course should get in touch with Walter O. Wade or Mrs. Naomi Gray at the Red Cross Chapter office.

In early spring a Senior Life Saving class will be conducted for advanced swimmers over seventeen years of age.

Vernon Green Tells Assembly Group of Trip

At the opening after-holiday assembly Wednesday of this week, Vernon Green gave a preliminary report on the trip he and Gerald Rowan took to New York to attend the meeting of the National Student Federation during the Christmas vacation. Dr. Spaeth, president of Kansas City University, who was to have spoken was unable to come because of bad weather.

Rowan and Green accompanied by Mr. Surry in the latter's car left Maryville December 19. They traveled to New York by way of Hannibal, Mo., Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pa. and New Jersey, arriving the next Monday. The speaker's impression of the New York people was that they were not very friendly and were always in a hurry.

The two College men had their program for seeing New York planned before they got there. Monday evening they went on a Y. M. C. A. tour of the Public Library; Tuesday they visited the American Museum of Natural History, where Mr. Colbert's son is located; Wednesday the Statue of Liberty was visited, where the view impressed the visitors. Later they went to the home of Mr. Surry and still later Times Square about which Green said, "I never saw anything like it." Here again the numbers of people impressed him. The Newark, N. J. airport was visited Thursday, and Friday they went to the Riverside Church to hear Reverend Fosdick preach his Christmas day sermon. Later that day they saw Grant's Tomb.

On Monday, Green and Rowan moved to the Hotel Victoria where the convention was held. They were welcomed by the president of the Federation, who explained the purpose of the meeting. At the Convention every kind of educational institution was represented and the problems discussed were varied. Green said that this Col-

Bearcats Lose to Pittsburg In Thrilling Over-Time Contest

Inability to hit at close range, a slippery floor, and a lax defense were potent factors in causing the Bearcats to lose a basketball thriller to Pittsburg, Kansas Teachers Monday evening at Pittsburg. The Bearcats got as many shots as the Gorillas but were unable to find the hoop for enough points to win.

Nothing has ever been decided by war that could not be decided without it; and if decided after the war, why not before?—Gen. U. S. Grant.

The lead changed eleven times and the score was tied six times during the game. The regular playing period ended 25 to 25 and an overtime period was necessary to decide the winner.

In the overtime period the Gorillas drew first blood with a field basket, and carried their drive for three more buckets and a free throw, at the same time holding the Bearcats to 3 points.

Harris of Pittsburg and Brown of Maryville each scored 10 points.

Coch Stalcup reports no injuries from the game. The boys are in good shape for the Rockhurst battle at Kansas City Jan. 12.

The Rockhurst game is expected to be a tough assignment, as they recently played the famous Santa Fe Trails to a 20 to 25 score in a twenty minute exhibition game.

Coch Stalcup has a wealth of freshmen reserves in Hackett, Sharp, Ostrus, Weary, and Bob Rogers. All are well over the six foot mark except Rogers, who measured 5-11. All are hustling players who will cause the others to play a good brand of ball to keep their berths.

Homer Croy, Author, Makes Annual Visit to Home Town

Mr. Homer Croy, internationally famous writer in the field of motion pictures, radio, and books, left Tuesday for his home in New York after a week end visit in Maryville with his step-mother, Mrs. A. J. Croy.

"I went to California to get some orange juice and came to Maryville for some fried mush," Mr. Croy said, "and from the way the weather feels, I had better be pulling out again." Croy was wearing a light suit and a cap to match during the interview last Saturday while the snow was falling and the wind was blowing hard from the north outside. "I'm not used to this," he complained.

Mr. Croy came to Maryville to get some information for a new book that he is writing in which he is using the town as the setting and Maryville people as the characters. One of the books the college students will remember him for is "West of the Water Tower." Another book which brought him considerable renown was "They Had To See Paris." At the present time Mr. Croy is working on a history of the Standard Oil Company which he intends to have ready for publication about next July or August.

Homer T. Phillips, head of the department of education in the College, will attend two committee meetings in Columbia this weekend. The teachers retirement law drafting committee will convene on Friday and the legislative committee on Saturday morning.

Semi-Final Beauty Queens Election is Held Yesterday

The semi-final class elections for the year's beauty queens were held Thursday morning after assembly where they elected Mary Ann Hamilton, Mary Shoemaker, Ma Powell, Glenna Smith, Ed Turner, Lois McCart, Jean Ripley and Mabel Bradley.

At a later date these candidates will be submitted to a final judge who will pick four of the young ladies, one from each class, who were chosen last Thursday, to be the "Tower Queens" for 1937.

Last year the beauty queens were selected by Ben Bernie and they were not announced until the Scoop Dance, the annual dance of the Northwest Missourian Press Club. This year the queens will be selected in a similar manner, and each queen will be given a page in the "Tower."

The freshman class, in addition to selecting their Tower queens, voted on their class officers. So far this year the freshman class has done without a class governing body. Merrill Ostrus of Wyota, Iowa was elected president and Francis Stubbs of Fillmore was elected vice-president. Mary Ellen Williams, Maryville, was elected as secretary and Gilbert Brown, Jameson, as treasurer. The student senate members elected were Merrill Ostrus and Neal Weary, Cainsville.

YOUR NEW EDITOR

By JUSTIN O. KING

I start my editorship of the MISSOURIAN with a great deal of hope and a little trepidation. There have been some fine editors of the paper in the past, and their record will be hard to live up to.

As every new editor, I want to do many things, but as every new editor has found there are certain things that are hard to put over.

During the remainder of the year this paper wants to carry every week, all the news of the students, the alumni, and the parents of the students we can get in the pages. However, it is impossible to write stories of interest, without the cooperation of these groups. That means every member of the body, should be interested enough in it to turn in any stories they know.

Each week we are asked, "Why wasn't this story, or that story in the paper." Our only answer is we didn't know there was a story or it would have been printed.

There are three thousand alumni of this school, and we should hear from most of them. Things they do, where they are, etc, are all of interest to this paper, and to those who read it. I sincerely hope the Alumni will send any stories to the NORTHWEST MISSOURIAN, they feel are news.

I shall attempt to make this as good a news paper as it has been in the past, and with your help I am sure it can be made into a much better paper.

AUTO DEATH TOLL REACHES NEW HIGH

When the joyous bells rang out the old year and in the new, who sounded the requiem, the dirge for the tens of thousands who met violent death in the worst 12 months of slaughter the nation has ever known?

There has been no civil war in America. There has been no butchery with bombs and tanks and machine guns, as in Spain. Yet, when all the bodies have been counted, those slain during 1936 will number 37,500.

There it is, the official estimate given out last week by the national safety council; the year's toll of death on the highway, the toll of speed and recklessness, of carelessness and drunken driving. It is, 500 more than last year—a new record, a new all-time high.

It may soften the shock somewhat to know that the rate of increase will be smaller than it has been since 1932, and that the death rate has increased less rapidly than gasoline consumption. But that is small consolation for the needless sacrifice of 37,000 human lives.

Thirty-seven thousand, five hundred; That is nine times the number of men who died in the Revolutionary War, five times as many as were killed in the Civil War's bloodiest battle at Gettysburg, and more than all the enlisted American soldiers killed in action in the World War.

Now that the bells have rung their merry tidings, there should sound also a requiem for the old year that passes on, stained with this appalling record of traffic deaths. The sobering effect of it might help move us to greater caution in 1937. Certainly something must.

BUSINESS ON UPGRADE

According to Roger W. Babson, economist and statistician, business is on the upgrade and should be thought of in that light.

"Only four times during my thirty-five years of studying business conditions has the Babson-chart, on which I have spent over a million dollars in research, crossed the 'normal line' on its way upward. The first of these was in 1922. The fourth has just occurred.

"So there is a boom coming, and advertising and selling are going to play a tremendous part in this coming boom." Mr. Babson further urges that, business men consider these important factors: Credits should be kept in order at all times. As prosperity proceeds there will be increasing shortages of skilled workers and executives; so investment in your personnel now should pay handsome dividends.

With Mr. Babson asking that business take on more help to train for these increased labor and executive places there will be an increasing demand for college graduates in the next year.

"Strange as this may sound, less than 10 per cent of the businessmen of the United States actually pulled profits from the great 1929 boom! Remember this," warns Mr. Babson, "whereas depression hits everybody, prosperity is always selective. Profits tickets are not passed out to all who enter the Big Tent of good times. In a period of business expansion you must work just as hard to assure profits as in a period of depression you must work hard to avert losses."

A CRISIS FOR CHARITY

Community-minded citizens in the United States are uneasy about the future of private charities. Government aid occupies an increasingly important role in humanitarian service, but there remains as great or perhaps a greater demand upon private charitable organizations to render the special forms of help they are equipped to give.

A review of the support accorded to Community Chests makes the picture clearer. They were first organized in 1914, in 12 cities, to pool the causes represented by various charitable groups. That year, they raised $14,225,000, according to "The Index," published by the New York Trust Company. By 1931, the number of chests had grown to 377, which raised $82,213,000. Despite the increase in chests, now in excess of 400, contributions have declined: 1933—$77,645, 000; 1935—$70,640,000; 1935 $70,000,000 (estimated).

The problem such figures tell is one to which all citizens will no doubt give special attention in the months to come.—ROTARIAN.

RANDOM THOUGHTS

You'll probably like (or resent) the headline in the Cincinnati (U.) News Record, "Roosevelt to Address Students", followed by the box insert, "Famous Magician will be at U. C. Friday".

Hanover, N. H.: We print this reminiscently. From the Daily Dartmouth:

"Facing Reality Department—The Dartmouth Tutoring Bureau prints its latest advertisements on blotting paper, features the fall football schedule."

The chasm which separates democracy from fascism is succinctly indicated on one of the frontier points between France and Italy. On the French side is a statue of Justice with the inscription: Liberty, Equality, Fraternity. On the Italian side stands a column composed of three fasces and three axes. The inscription on this reads: Believe, Obey, Fight! (Credere, Obbedire, Combattere!)

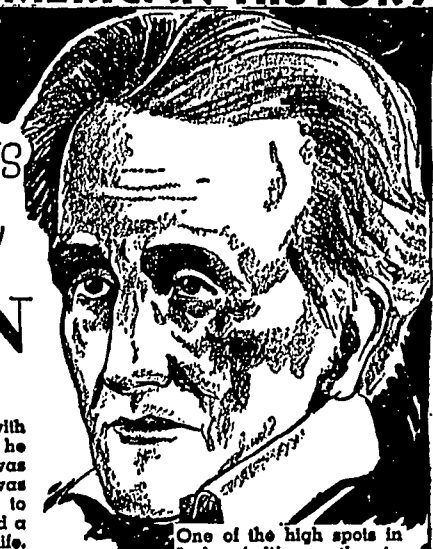

One of the best uses of originality is to say common things in a uncommon way. He who things for himself, and rarely imitates, is a free man.

HEROES OF AMERICAN HISTORY

THE HERO of NEW ORLEANS

ANDREW JACKSON

Jackson was a poor frontier boy, with little education. At the age of 13 he went to war for the Colonies, but was soon captured by the British. He was a spirited lad and for refusing to black an officer's boots he received a saber cut which disfigured him for life.

One of the high spots in Jackson's life was the pistol duel that he fought in defense of his wife's honor. The encounter ended in the death of his opponent and stopped the malicious slander of his enemies. Despite his humble origin, Jackson rose to be seventh President of the U. S. His administration was the reign of the common people, and he was one of the most popular and able Presidents that this country has ever had!

Jackson became famous through his brilliant defense of New Orleans in the war of 1812. Peace had already been declared when the battle was being fought, but news of it did not reach Jackson until days later.

Dr. Dildine Talks On China Problems

The troubles between Japan and China were pungently discussed by Dr. Harry G. Dildine of the Social Science Dept. of the College before the thirty-five members of the Men's Forum, Monday at the Methodist Church.

Dr. Dildine talked on the seven claims that Japan makes against China. The first is that "Japan wants China to suppress the Chinese boycott against Japan and to suppress agitation against Japan". The second is that Japan wants China to recognize the autonomy of the five provinces in North China; the third is that Japan insists that China shall unite with her to crush Communism in eastern China.

The fourth claim is a demand by Japan that advisers of that country be used in economics, military and police incidents in Southern China. The other three claims by Japan against China are that Japan wants a lowering of tariffs so that the two countries can make a tariff union of the Far East; Japan wants control of the Chinese naval bases, and Japan wants China to surrender to her all anti-Japanese Koreans who are in China. Dr. Dildine said the latter is a very severe demand. He also mentioned that Great Britain is strengthening her fortification at Singapore against Japanese economic aggression.

Japan realizes that it would be difficult to approach Russia along the old Siberian railroad and so is planning to go through Northern China by motor trucks," Dr. Dildine said. "The larger part of the Japanese army is not in sympathy with the extreme militarists in Japan."

In closing Dr. Dildine made this important conclusion: "China has one and one-half million men under arms and is fast strengthening her air forces at the present time. If the League of Nations had stepped in against Japan, it is probable that China would not have militarized."

Many alumni and former students of the college were in Maryville during the vacation. Among them were; Eudora Smith, Jefferson City; Edna Mary Monk, Fillmore; Pauline Walker, Clarion; Glen Marr, Grant City; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Milner, Jackson; Elwood Huff, St. Joseph; Francis Shamberger, Milford, Iowa; Marvin Shamberger, Harris; Elbert Barrett, Mondak, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Bowen, St. Paul, Minnesota; Beatrice Lemon, Hamilton; Warren Crow, Madison, Wis.; Dorothy Sandison, Trenton; Ray Keever, Oak Grove; Ford Bradley, Poplar Bluff; Lucille Leeson, Marionville; Charlotte Leet, Bayard, Iowa; Arthur Brewer, St. Louis; Cres Maul, Egbert, Wyo.; Fritz Cronkite, Lenox, Iowa; Max Stalcup, Pattonsburg; Orval Johnson, Clinton; Jean Bowen, Kansas City; Harry Lyle, Parnell; Harold Persons, Grandview; and Jack Ford, Iowa City, Iowa.

Former Violin Teacher Weds

Miss Helen Marie Dvorak was married to Mr. Vincent Howard Talley on Saturday, December 26. The wedding took place at the church of St. Thomas the Apostle in Chicago, Ill. The couple will be at home after the first of February at 5728 Blackstone Avenue in Chicago.

Mrs. Talley was a former instructor of violin in the conservatory of music of the College.

Medsker-Lyle

Mr. and Mrs. Tilghman Medsker of Guilford announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mildred Medsker to Mr. Marvin Lyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Lyle of near Maryville. The wedding took place New Year's day at the home of the bride's parents, with Dr. E. L. Robinson, pastor of the Huffman Memorial church of St. Joseph performing the ceremony.

Miss Nydra Jorgenson sang "Ave Maria" (Shubert) and "At Dawning" (Cadman) before the ceremony. Miss Vesta Helzer played Lohengrin's wedding march for the processional.

Miss Medsker was attended by her sister, Marjorie Medsker. Mr. Lon Lyle of Kansas City, cousin of the groom was best man.

The bride wore a rust wool dress with brown accessories. The dress had a matching jacket with beaver trim which she wore for traveling. She carried a corsage of Talisman roses.

A reception was given in the home following the wedding. Miss Mary Louise Lyle, sister of the bridegroom, poured and Mrs. Leland Medsker of Chicago, Miss Mary Ethel Oliver and Miss Eudora Medsker assisted with the serving.

Mrs. Lyle is a former student of the College and a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority. She has taught near Guilford for the past five years and will continue to teach until the close of the school year.

Mr. Lyle is a graduate of the College. At present he is associated in farming with his father.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Every student expecting to complete the work of any curriculum (60 of 120 hour) and to be a candidate for graduation at the Spring Commencement, must file an application for the certificate of diploma not later than Friday January 15, 1937, at office of the Registrar, room 201.

All students who plan to complete their work at the end of the present term, who have not made application at the Registrar's office, should do so at once.

Responsibility for making proper application rests with the students and failure to take care of the matter properly may result in failure to graduate.

R. E. BALDWIN
Acting Registrar.

All N. Y. A. workers should have their time sheets turned in to Mr. Ferguson's office by Saturday afternoon, Jan. 9. The pay will be made out Sunday and to Jefferson City. Please do this at once.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

Justin King's "M" Club A team inaugurated the 1937 intramural basketball season Tuesday night with a decisive victory over Virgil Elliot's Knights of the Water Tower club by a 24-12 count. Don Francis, the southpaw of the letter men tied for high point honors with "Sir" J. C. Elliot of the water tower gang with three buckets each.

This game, a surprise to the spectators, showed some very nice ball handling by both teams. J. Norval Saylor, the faculty's lone representative in intramurals, came through in fine shape but blowing and puffing quite a bit. Mr. Saylor played center on the "M" Club collected one counter from the field, controlled the tip a majority of the time and played a fair defensive game.

Both teams played an exceptionally clean game, only six personal fouls were called during the evening. It was particularly noticeable that neither team hit a free throw during the entire game. The "M" Club boys have a well balanced squad and can substitute freely without affecting their floor play a great deal. They should go a long way towards winning the metals.

JOE TOWN CUTTERS VS. SKUNKS

In a typical slam bang, knock down drag out, intramural game, the Joe Town Cutters under the guiding care of their manager Bill McMullen, took out Rolla Moore's Skunks to the tune of 26 to 18. Thirteen personal fouls were called with ten of the offenses being checked against the winners. Harland Farrar managed to last about a quarter before he went out on personals; Lester Brewer only got caught on three fouls and lasted the whole game.

M. Laughlin of the skunks came home with eight points for the high point honors of the game. Feurt played an outstanding game for the Joe Town boys.

Over 100 of the college women are working and paying some of their expenses in college, according to records in the women's activity office. Many of them are employed in private homes where they perform various duties. Caring for children, aiding with the house work and being a companion to elderly people are examples of the type of work done in homes.

Local stores have furnished work to many women. Some is secretarial, library, supervision in the training school, life saving, working in the checkroom at the gymnasium, playing the piano at the gymnasium, and working at the desk in Residence Hall.

Teaching dancing is the occupation of one of the women.

Other work is help in grading papers, tests and notebooks for the faculty members.

Tragedy came to a former Maryville College student during the Christmas holidays. Eleanor Hensleigh, enrolled here during the summer quarter of 1935, was married to Ferdinand Beckler, December 14, 1936, and widowed the same day.

Mrs. Beckler, who is a senior at Simpson College, College Springs, Iowa, received word December 12, that her fiancé had been injured while oiling a drive shaft. His doctor thought that the injury was not serious and believed him out of danger. Later it was discovered that his skull had been fractured and he died two days later, three hours after his marriage with Miss Hensleigh.

Mr. Beckler was a machinist in the Fleischman Yeast company's plant at Watertown, Iowa. He was a soldier in the German army during the World War. He came to this country a few years ago.

Mrs. Beckler will be graduated from Simpson College in February. She is preparing to teach home economics. She plans to take post graduate work at Iowa State College at Ames, Iowa.

Forty-three girls have been reporting to basketball practice three times a week. A practice tournament started Jan. 7, and will continue next week. This practice tournament is to be used as preparation for the final tournaments which will begin Jan. 18.

Four teams have been entered; they are: The Henny-Benny, co-captains, Unity Hixenbaugh and Lucy Mae Benson; The Flyers, captain Gladys Miller; Streamliners, co-captains Norma Ruth Logan, and Beatrice Leeson; Goalheavers, captain Marjorie Schneider.

The W. A. A. is giving points to those people who attend Dance Club which meets each Monday night at 8:15, Norma Ruth Logan has been chosen dance manager by the organization.

Six new members were taken in to the club this week: Marianna

Obermiller, Gladys Miller, Lilian Combs, Maurine Leply, Norma Fean Ripley, Peggy Jo. War-tiz.

lege had already solved many of the problems discussed, among them was the problem of Freshman Orientation.

Dinner was held Monday night in the main ball room of the Hotel Victoria at which the Secretary of the International Student Survey discussed the European situation.

During the Convention commissions were formed on many subjects of interest to College people. Some of them named by Green were student government, student rights, honor system, fraternities and sororities, militarism, newspapers, NYA, religion, vocational guidance, government and politics and teachers colleges.

An important resolution presented by the Teachers College Commission was that the standard for certificates for teaching should be raised to require an A. B. or B. S. in education.

The three Maryville men left New York Thursday, Dec. 31 and arrived in Maryville Saturday afternoon.

President Lamkin closed the assembly by comments on the speech and told incidents of his own trip to New York and Washington, D. C.

DOPE BUCKET

By JUSTIN O. KING

The conference has already opened with first game played and Cape was the winner over Rolla.

But the conference will open this week in earnest, with games to be played every week from here on out. This week Kirksville will play twice in the conference, their first game will be with Springfield and the second with Rolla.

I pick Springfield and Rolla as the winners, something new to be picking Rolla a winner in basketball in this conference, but I feel they have the best team of the two.

I take it back—Warrensburg can't beat Stanford, not if a score of 51 to 31 with Stanford on the long end is any indication. Sorry but I thought Warrensburg had a much better team than that. However, I will say, and mean it too, they have one of the best teams in the conference and will be close to the top if not the top when the conference ends.

However, I do not agree with Springfield, when they say that Warrensburg will be first, Cape second, Maryville third and Springfield fourth in the conference. I am fully confident that the Bearcats will end up in either first or second place, and that brings about a change, but I won't attempt to place the conference teams as they will finish.

Could you imagine giving up your Christmas vacation, for school work, or some club, or even debate or music—no neither can I, but the Basketball team gave up theirs to work out twice a day.

And that brings me around to the old saying, that Athletes have the easiest time getting through school—well figure it out for yourself—they practice every day except Sunday, at least three hours and when evening comes they have skull practice at the gym. Of course that is no more than most of the students who are working their way through college have to do—except that most of these boys are also working their way through college.

Sure you say they're dumb—who wouldn't be if they worked, and played at least six hours of every day, and then carried four classes too. No, I think there is no smarter group of students in the college than those boys who spend so much time working, and still are able to pass and they have to pass—or they don't play. Yet you will never be able to say you know an athlete who is not willing to help with anything he can, to make the school better.

My sympathies begin to yawn, when some of the yell leaders fail to show up to games—and use as excuses they had a ride home. Sure they had a ride home—so did some of the players—but they didn't take it. And they were not elected to their job by popular vote of the student body either.

After all I am beginning to believe the yell leaders were elected for popularity and not for a job that should be done.

The Women's Self Governing Association of Residence Hall met January, 4, and elected council members for the winter quarter.

Elizabeth Utz, Eileen Elliott, and Lois Utterback were elected from the senior class; Edwardena Harrison, Marian Kirk, and Mary Peck were junior elects; Lois McCartney and Mary Joe McGee were from the sophomore class; and Margaret Smith, and Betty McGee

The new Wake Island Hotel—over-night stop on the new Pan American Airways route to China.

Off on a new cruise

Carrying more pleasure to more people
...giving smokers what they want
...Chesterfields are off on a new cruise.

From Wake Island 5000 miles out in the Pacific Ocean, Pan American Airways flashed this radio:

"RUSH TEN THOUSAND CHESTERFIELDS TODAY'S CHINA CLIPPER."

At three o'clock that afternoon the Chesterfields were on their way. Four days later back came the message:

"CHESTERFIELDS JUST ARRIVED.

PANAIR WAKE."

When smokers find out the good things Chesterfields give them...
